The first business and

ONCE UPON A TIME...

A social worker in an accommodation center realized that the people living there had true gifts and skills, that they had projects and needed to be supported...

A temporary cooperative was born: several entrepreneurs, a sewing project. A few weeks later production was running and products were sold !

Strengthened by this experimentation Cités Coop was created: a pioneering and sustainable structure, ready to welcome you!

This structure is for every idea-owner and project-owner that want to start an activity, among them people on integration or re-integration paths
